

WORKSHOP IN GENERAL LINGUISTICS
 Friday February 27th, 1418 Van Hise

10:00 am	Ichiro Noguchi, East Asian Languages, UW-Madison “The Deictic Motion Verbs Iku and Kuru in Japanese”
10:20 am	Darren Haney, Spanish and Portuguese, UW-Madison “Organic Deponent Verbs in Spanish and an Amusing Case of Mistaken Etymology”
10:40 am	Iljoo Ha, Linguistics, UW-Madison “Specificity and Intervention Effects in Korean”
11-11:10	break
11:10 am	Michele Back, Second Language Acquisition, UW-Madison “The Effects of a Bilingual Education Program on Attitudes Towards Quechua: The case of Puno, Peru”
11:30 am	Kerstin Mendel, Foreign Languages and Linguistics, UW-Milwaukee “Regional Languages in France – The Case of Breton”
11:50-1:00	break
1:00 pm	Wang Yan, East Asian Linguistics and Literature, UW-Madison “A study of Japanese sentence-final particle kana”
1:20 pm	Hugh Bishop, English, UW-Madison “Noticing Formulaic Sequences – A Problem of Measuring the Subjective”
1:40 pm	Ryan Hanke, Linguistics, UW-Madison “Fox Reduplication in OT”
2:00-2:10	break
2:10 pm	Ah-rong Lee and Young-hyon Heo, Foreign Languages and Linguistics, UW-Milwaukee “The Phonological Adaptation of Foreign Liquids in Korean”
2:30 pm	Laura Catharine Smith, Linguistics, UW-Madison “Prosodic Templates in Modern German and Dutch”
2:50 pm	Jiyeon Lee, Linguistics, UW-Milwaukee “Transfer in L2 Variation: The Case of disappearing /w/ in the English of Korean learners”
3:10-3:20	break
3:20 pm	Min Sook Kim, English, UW-Milwaukee “The syllabic status of glides in Korean: from the view of a language game”
3:40 pm	Maki Shimotani, East Asian Languages and Literature, UW-Madison “Contextual relationships between the prosodic features and the modal function of the question marker ka in Japanese”
4:00 pm	Plenary Speaker Tom Purnell, Assistant Professor of Linguistics, UW-Madison “Repair Operation Hierarchies in Bantu Tonology”

5:00 pm – All are invited to meet at the Saz on State Street for a post-WIGL Linguists’ Night Out!