

South and Lule Sámi Language Revitalization and Nord University, Norway

Inger Johansen

Asbjørn Kolberg

Brown-bag talk, Thursday, February 2, 2023, noon
Madsen Reading Room, 1312 Van Hise Hall
University of Wisconsin-Madison

Nord University holds the responsibility for teacher and language education for julevsámegiella and åarjelsaemien giäle, Lule and South Sámi, two of the Sámi languages of the Sámi nation in Norway. Professors Asbjørn Kolberg and Inger Johansen will present on Nord University's work in the context of broader language maintenance and revitalization efforts for these two endangered Indigenous languages.

UW Event sponsors:

GERMAN, NORDIC, AND SLAVIC+
College of Letters & Science

Language Sciences
College of Letters & Science

Language Institute
University of Wisconsin-Madison Language Institute

Enwejjig Indigenous Language Advocates

The University of Wisconsin-Madison

the center
for european studies

NORD
universitet